			The following list gives the number of men each town has represented in the various branches of the U. S. Service as of March 15, 1942: St. George 96; Hurricane 37; LaVerkin 4; Washington 11; Springdale 8; Enterprise 8; Virgin 7; Santa Clara 5; New Harmony 5; Toquerville 5; Leeds 5; Pintura 4; Pine Valley 2; Motoqua 3; Gunlock 1; Veyo 1; and Ivins 0, for a county total of 191.

42.08.20 WCN Louis Alex Fullerton Promoted A telephone call one evening last week from Fort Lewis, Wash., brought greetings from Louis A. (Alex) Fullerton, to his parents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fullerton of this city. He received the rank of Sergeant late in July and telephoned to say "hello", to his parents before leaving Fort Lewis for elsewhere along the Pacific Coast. Sergeant Fullerton is making an expert chef of himself while serving in the Army and admits that after all these months he still enjoys that division of camp activity. Clarence Ward Promoted Latest word from Clarence J. Ward, brother of F. J. Ward of this city, indicates this member of Company 'C', 115th Engineers has recently been promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant. Just when this promotion occurred is not definitely stated, but it marks the progress of one more St. George boy in the military set-up. He left with Utah's National Guard in March, 1941. Nisson To Attend Off. School Corp. Quentin A. Nisson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Nisson arrived home Friday morning on a short furlough from Camp Hulen, Texas. He has been chosen from his Battery to attend the Anti-aircraft Artillery Officers' candidate school at Camp Davis, North Carolina. He will report to this "eastern post" immediately upon his return to Camp Hulen.	Rulon Foster Passes Navy Test Rulon Foster has received his rating of 3rd Class Officer in the Naval Reserves, after passing his examination in Salt Lake City last week. He left Salt Lake City Tuesday morning for San Diego, where he will enter training. Mack Morris Now Sergeant Mr. and Mrs. Claud Morris were advised this past week end of the promotion of their son, Mack, to the rank of Staff Sergeant. Mack left St. George in March, 1941, with the local unit of the 115th Engineers, and has been making steady progress. He was recently transferred with 25 others from Fort Lewis, Wash., to Camp White, Oregon, to help organize the new 91st division. Sgt. Bob Brooks, now a Technical Sergeant is in the same group. The letters from Sgt. Morris to his parents are filled with appreciation for the fine work of the local boys and he is glad to be one of them, though this recent division is rather a shaking up of the associations of the original group of 115th Engineers, who are now distributed in all directions. Stanley Meacham Promoted A letter from Mrs. Fenton G. Meacham of Salt Lake City Saturday to Mrs. Henry Atkin of this city advised her of the recent promotion of their son, Stanley, to the rank of Second Lieut. on completion a week ahead of schedule of his special training of Ft. Belvoir, Va., where he has been in training the past several weeks. Writing his mother from Wash-	ington D.C., Lieutenant Meacham stated he was leaving immediately for Baltimore, Md., where he would receive additional training for a month at the school of chemical warfare at Medford Arsenal, Md. Lieut. Meacham left St. George with the 115th Engineers for San Luis Obispo in March, 1941, and has steadily forged ahead to his present rank, along with others from St. George and Washington county. Although few are still together of the company who made up the 115th Engineers, news of the whereabouts and promotions and doings of their former company members reaches practically all of them through the local county paper and gives them a thrill each time a story of one of the old group comes to their attention. Lieut. Andrus Visits Here Granted a short breathing spell during the transfer from one unit to another, First Lieut. Calvert Andrus was able to come home for a day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Andrus, before going on to Camp White, Ore. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Andrus, who has been living near Fort Lewis, while the company has been stationed there. A member of the St. George Company 'C', 115th Engineers, Lieutenant Andrus' new responsi-	bility will be to help with the training of recruits at Camp White. He and Mrs. Andrus arrived in St. George early Monday morning and spent Monday and Tuesday about town, visiting with relatives and friends. On Tuesday evening Lieut. Andrus left to report at Camp White. He was accompanied as far as Provo by his wife, his parents, and small niece, Mary Smith. From Provo he will travel by train to Oregon and the others will return to St. George. Mrs. Andrus will visit for several weeks at the home of her husband's parents, before joining him in Oregon. Harris Visits Soldier Son Dr. and Mrs. P. E. Harris left Wednesday evening for California where they plan to visit briefly with their son, Sgt. P. E. Harris Jr., recently transferred there from Fort Lewis, Wash. Their daughter, Patricia, accompanied them as far as Las Vegas, where her sister, Mrs. Wayne G. Robertson, of Boulder City, with whom she will remain while her parents are on the Coast, will meet her. P. E. Harris Jr., was promoted to the rank of Sergeant late in July, and is one of the three St. George boys known to still belong to Company 'C' 115th Engineers, of which it is claimed only 29 of the original company are still in tact. The other two known St. George members are Sgts. Clay Williams and Gene Gregerson. Many of them have gone into other branches of training and	into other areas, until the large unit that left St. George in March of 1941, has only this small number of its original company. Back four generations, Sergeant Gregerson's great grandfather was an officer in the Danish army and lost his life during one of the attempted German invasions. Five of his great grandsons from Utah, including Gene, are now in service and more are going. Sergeant Williams' ancestors were also connected with the state militia and his background lacks nothing of the background that makes for military prowess and vitality of the present generation. Dr. and Mrs. Harris are carrying with them to the Coast, cheering messages from the home folks to the Dixie boys and all the boys who are still in Company 'C'.

Private/specialist (1920–1942)

From 1920 to 1942, there was a rank designated "private/specialist" (or simply, "specialist") that was graded in six classes (the lowest being sixth class and the highest being first class). They were considered the equal of a private first class (Pfc.), but drew additional specialist pay in relationship to the specialist level possessed on top of their base Pfc. (grade six) pay. The classes only indicated competency, not authority, and a private/specialist did not outrank a Pfc.

Officially, specialists wore the single chevron of a Pfc., because no special insignia was authorized to indicate their rank. Unofficially, a private/specialist could be authorized, at his commander's discretion, to wear one to six additional rockers (one rocker for sixth class, and a maximum of six rockers for first class) under their rank chevron to denote specialty level.
